

MARY JONES
123 Any Street
Any City, State 55555

(213) 555-1234
Cellular/Messages: (213) 777-5678
e-mail: MaryJones@earthlink.net

A licensed vocational nurse with 20 years in acute-care facilities. Strong experiences in medical/surgical nursing, primarily gastro-intestinal, orthopedic and oncology.

ACCOMPLISHMENTS

- Organized medical carts for more efficient counting with less chance of error, organizing each med in a separate zippered page that was then condensed into one folder. Processing time was cut from 1 hour to 30 minutes.
- Completing of all requirements for RN except for the last year which include the science courses needed prior to entrance into RN training.

EXPERIENCE

Western Hospital, Los Angeles, California 2005-Present

LVN

Responsible for medications, IV therapy, skin care, wound care, nutrition, fluid intake and output Monitor vital signs.

Central Hospital, Torrance, California 1995-2005

LVN

Responsible for ten to fifteen patients nightly, which included full scope of practice for LVNs.

Huntington Hospital, Los Angeles, California 1990-1995

LVN

Introduced to Metabolic Nursing and some rehabilitation following trauma cases. Volunteered for Casa Colina for ten months.

EDUCATION

Mills College, Oakland, California

LVN Nursing License

El Camino Community College, Torrance, California

General Education Courses

Cerritos Community College, Cerritos, California

General Education. Pre-Requisites for RN training

Santa Monica Community College, Santa Monica, California

General Psychology.
English 101 and 102 (Written Communication)